

Lost in cave

Narrator: One day on the cold winter, Oak and his friend, Mark are going aboard by plane. The winter storm is very strong. Their plane has a big problem. The engine don't work anymore because the ice get in the engine. Suddenly they heard a loud boom.

Oak: Oh no! The engine is broken. We are getting in trouble!

Mark: We have got two big parasols. Let's use them to escape before we die in this plane.

Narrator: The engine is broken! Their plane starts falling down the sky. They quickly escape from the plane using their big parasol. They fall in the enormous forest. They fall in a very cold in the winter storm when they landed. They walk along in winter storm until they find a cave.

Oak: Oh! Thanks god! We will get warmer in there. Let's get in.

Mark: Oh! Ok quickly. The winter storm is getting stronger and stronger. I hate winter storm.

Narrator: Oak and Mark quickly get in the cave and lit the fire up to get warmer. Suddenly the ground starts shaking. It was earthquake!

Oak: Oh! No! Get out from this cave now! It is not saves for us anymore.

Mark: OK!

Narrator: Suddenly the ground broke! They all fall in the hole deeper and deeper underground. The hole underground is much bigger than what they see before when they come in.

Mark: Whoa! This dark cave is much bigger than what we saw up there.

Oak: Yes, but let find the way out. I don't like getting dirty in dark scary cave.

Mark: I don't mind getting dirty, but I hate scary spider and disgusting insect that live in cave. I don't like them.

Narrator: Oak and Mark start walking along the dark cave. While they are walking, they can hear the sound like water sound.

Oak: Huh?! What is that sound?

Mark: It is river.

Oak: Are you crazy? How the river is in cave?

Mark: To make sure, let see it.

Narrator: When they see what is making the strange noise, the answer is clear. Mark was right! It is a big river. They drink the water in the river.

Oak: Ah! I feel much better.

Mark: Me too.

Narrator: While Oak and Mark are drinking the water, they see a light.

Mark: What is that?

Oak: Is that lava? Isn't it?

Mark: Let's see what it is.

Narrator: They walk to see it and they shocked! There is a shop in the cave.

Oak: Wow! That is a shop.

Mark: Oh! I love shopping. Let's get in.

Shop keeper: Hello? Can I help you? Do you need anything?

Oak: Yes, Do you have any sandwich or bread?

Shop keeper: Yes, I have got some cheese sandwich. It is four pounds fifty.

Oak: I will have one.

Shop keeper: Ok here you go.

Narrator: Shop keeper gives Oak a cheese sandwich.

Oak: Wow! This cheesy cheese sandwich is delicious! I like it!

Mark: Can I try some? I am so hungry now.

Oak: Sure! You can.

Narrator: Oak give Mark his cheese sandwich and Mark eats it.

Mark: Hmm, This is great. I love it!

Oak: Do you have any Cola or soft drink?

Shop keeper: No, but I have got some hot chocolate, water, coffee and orange juice.

Oak: How much is water, orange juice and coffee?

Shop keeper: They are three pounds eighty-nine, three pounds ninety-nine and four pounds twelve in order.

Mark: We will have all.

Oak: Do you have anything that makes us see well in dark?

Shop keeper: Yes, I have some torch and night vision goggle.

Mark: Oh! I want night vision goggle. I like it.

Oak: Ok I will use the torch. I am sure night vision goggle would give me a horrible headache.

Mark: How much are they?

Shop keeper: The night vision goggle costs nine-teen pounds seventy-nine and the torch is eleven pounds sixty-seven.

Oak: Maybe they are all we need. I think that is enough.

Shop keeper: Oh! There are many dangerous cave monsters.
Do you want any pistols?

Oak: Huh? Cave monster?!

Narrator: Oak and Mark look each other face with scare.

Mark: Ok. We will have some piston. If any monster appeared, I will shoot it.

Oak: Do we have any knife? We need it.

Mark: No, I don't have any but we can use pistols. Don't worry.

Oak: How much they all cost?

Shop keeper: That's sixty-four pounds thirty-nine.

Mark: Do you have any money? I don't have any money.

Oak: Yes, I have got some money.

Narrator: Oak and Mark give shop keeper sixty-four pounds thirty-nine. They exit the shop and walk and walk. After four hours of walking they hear a strange noise.

Mark: Huh? What is that?

Oak: Use your night vision goggles. Quickly!

Narrator: Mark uses his night vision goggle.

Mark: That is dragon! Run!

Oak: No, we wouldn't run. We have got two pistons. Can't you remember that?

Mark: Ok! Give me one!

Narrator: Oak gives Mark one of his pistols. Mark shoots the dragon. The dragon roars with pain. The dragon suddenly flies up and hits the cave's ceiling. The cave ceiling crack and make a hole where the warm sunlight comes from.

Oak: It is going to fly! Catch its long tail! We will use its tail to come out.

Mark: Ok!

Narrator: The dragon flies up high in the sky. The dragon flies so far and then suddenly Oak decided to shoots its heads to make it land on the land. Suddenly it starts falling down and down. Mark can see Oak's school, Assumption Collage.

Mark: That's your school, Oak!

Narrator: The dragon hardly crushes at Mr. Donovan's room. Oak quickly run in the room.

Oak: Yeah! I am not late. I am just in time.

Narrator: Oak gives his homework "Lost" to Mr. Donovan. Oak and Mark had safely escaped from the cave and a few day later there are their picture on the newspaper with the topic "Cave dragon hunter".
