Personality adjectives and tools for my job

★ A dentist should be intelligent because if a dentist is not intelligent a dentist will not be able to help patients.

★ A dentist should be kind because a dentist will see patient's teeth and there are many patients that are children if a dentist is not kind children will be scared and don't want to see him.

★ A dentist shouldn't be an impatient person because a dentist has many patients that want help. If a dentist is impatient person a dentist will not help many patients.

A dentist uses a mouth mirror, an explorer and forceps to help patients. He also uses a hospital or clinic to go to and help patients if they don't have hospital or clinic. A dentist uses a dentist assistant to help him to help patients.

My best day: My patient told me about my clinic. She told me my clinic is the best clinic. I felt happy and I told her "thank you". She gave me some fruit. She knew that I like healthy food. I smiled and picked it up and said thank you again. I was eating lunch when she told me about my clinic and she told me about my clinic while she was listening to the radio too.

My worst day: One day I was reading a book when my patient shouted - I heard the words that he shouted. He said words that made my clinic sound bad. I felt very bad. He spoke to my assistant while I was reading books. He told my assistant that my clinic was bad. He threw a clock and shouted more. My clinic was very messy afterwards I told the police to stop him while my assistant told him to stop. He didn't stop while the police were coming in so the police took him to the police station.
